Access Granted: LastPass Logs In $125M Acquisition by LogMeIn

Stradley represented LastPass, the popular single-sign-on and password management service in its $125 million acquisition by LogMeIn. A high-growth business with millions of loyal users and an award-winning product line, LastPass will immediately bolster LogMeIn's position in the multibillion-dollar identity and access management (IAM) market, while accelerating one of the company's key strategic growth initiatives.
