

Christine Rosenblatt

Associate

crosenblatt@stradley.com

New York, NY: 212.812.4138

Christine Rosenblatt focuses her practice on transactional tax matters.

Christine advises clients on a wide array of tax matters, including mergers and acquisitions, partnerships and joint ventures, restructurings, and fund-related transactions.

Prior to joining Stradley Ronon, Christine was a tax associate at an Am Law 10 firm. She previously interned at a Big Four accounting firm, where she focused on state and local tax matters.

Featured Representative Matters

- Represented Mutual Group Inc., a national platform serving independent financial advisers and registered investment advisers, in a transaction involving a strategic investment by Emigrant Partners to enable Mutual to expand its national footprint and position its business for growth.

Experience

Stradley Ronon Advises Mutual Group in Emigrant Partners Deal

Stradley Ronon represented Mutual Group Inc., a national platform serving independent financial advisers and registered investment advisers, in a transaction involving a strategic investment by Emigrant Partners, a leading minority investor in the wealth and asset management industry.

The deal, announced April 9, enables Mutual Group to expand its national footprint, deepen adviser engagement, accelerate key platform enhancements and position its business for the next phase of growth.

Read the announcement.

Services

- Tax
- Investment Management Tax
- Corporate

Education

- Benjamin N. Cardozo School of Law (J.D., cum laude)
 - Communications Chair, Cardozo Law Review
- Barnard College (B.A., cum laude)

Admissions

- New York

Business Vantage Point Blog

Proposed Treasury and IRS Regulations for Trump Accounts: What You Need to Know

May 19, 2026

As part of the One Big Beautiful Bill Act , the sweeping tax and domestic policy bill signed into law last July, the Trump Accounts were established under the Working Families Tax Cuts legislation to create new tax-advantaged savings...