Stradley Ronon Successfully Advocates Pension Reform for Pennsylvania State Employees and Teachers Unions

The Stradley Ronon Government & Public Affairs group, on behalf of one of the world's largest financial services companies, lobbied Pennsylvania General Assembly leaders on both sides of the aisle, as well as Governor Tom Wolf's administration, to ensure that the Commonwealth state employees and teachers maintain their ability to direct their deferred compensation contributions to their own self-directed plans and retained the right to choose from multiple investment advisers.
